The Centuric Story

Centuric offers a comprehensive suite of products and services tailored to address the complex issues in today's business environment. Our goal is to help clients meet the challenges of implementing and maintaining a compliant and secure communication network.

Centuric began operations in 2001, since then we have teamed up with organizations of all sizes to complete initial strategic consultations and project planning through deployment of solutions to ongoing maintenance, hosting and support.

With a Tier 1 network operations center (NOC), Centuric provides a secure and compliant environment for clients seeking an outsourced solution rather than building their own physical infrastructure and hiring technical specialists. Our team of technology professionals can provide managed network services using either on-site or NOC servers in a highly efficient manner.

We continually align our products and services with the evolution of security threats, compliance regulations and market trends. We work with experienced partners and participate in continuing professional education to ensure that our offerings meet our clients' evolving trends.

Managed Services

Centuric's Infrastructure as a Service provides our clients with robust, redundant enterprise level virtual or physical platforms to meet your information technology needs. Our partnership with Host.net gives us access to a Cisco powered 10G multinational backbone with local presence in South Florida and the ability to provide virtual networks, virtual storage, backup/restore and disaster recovery solutions. Whether your company needs a managed services provider or a place to co-locate your network, Centuric's private cloud and co-location solutions are available. Our cloud infrastructure includes the latest technology through our Enterprise Partnership with VMware including:

- High Availability
- Fault Tolerance
- Live Migration
- Dynamic Resource Scheduling
- Complete Security
- Thin Provisioning
- Backup/Restore
- Disaster Recovery
- Desktop Virtualization

Infrastructure Outsourcing

IT Infrastructure Outsourcing enables businesses to maintain a competitive edge. Executives rely on strategic initiatives to take their business to the next level. Centuric can help lead enterprise-wide efforts to realign organizational priorities. Centuric provides this set of bundled services in its fault tolerant, highly redundant data centers, which include hardware, software, data communications equipment and access to leverage telecommunications pricing through our strategic partnerships. Centuric can also work within your infrastructure to provide these same services. Our approach to infrastructure management ensures our customers the smooth functioning of their systems and adds value through operational efficiencies and technical enhancements. Centuric is here to provide you with solutions to fit your needs.

Help Desk

Centuric provides a single point of contact for your end-users, available 24/7 via phone and email. We resolve hardware, software and applications issues quickly and professionally. You can select remote-only support, or our full-service option that brings an expert technician to your site. In addition to saving time and cutting costs, our Help Desk boosts user productivity and satisfaction. The Centuric team supports users in all aspects of their workplace, including:

- Notebooks
- Desktops
- Infrastructure Design and Management
- Peripherals such as printers, faxes, copiers
- Back office applications
- Mobile devices
- Microsoft applications and more

We make sure that core competencies and strategically important initiatives are synchronized from a technology perspective. Companies can leverage the cutting-edge technologies we provide at reasonable cost, while benefiting from our IT professionals' technical and systems maintenance expertise. Since 2001, Centuric has worked with companies to optimize their IT resources and support their critical business initiatives. Centuric has helped numerous organizations reduce operating costs, avoid capital expenditures, simplify their architecture, improve levels of service and support, and avoid hardware upgrade limitations. Centuric's technicians have skill sets that cross all platforms and applications including:

- Microsoft Apps
- Linux
- UNIX
- iSeries / AS400
- Database Management
- VMware
- Citrix
- Wireless
- Network Monitoring
- Application Management
